

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A lightweight, dimensionally stable steel rule die for cutting and scoring carton blanks having a die board containing the cutting and scoring rules which is formed of a laminated plastic construction adapted to register and coact with a steel counterplate over prolonged production runs and maintain registration within a tolerance range of about ± 0.002 inches.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY